"These people are not chislers, they are the aged, the blind, the young, the totally disabled."

The balance was spent for assistance, burial, school, medical and foster home care. During the last half of May 862 people were on public assistance, that is about one and eight-tenths of the county population. SEARCH FOR OAK WILT IS BEGUN BY STATE TODAY

Airline surveys to spot the presence of destructive oak wilt disease on farms and in woodlands of Pennsylvania were started today in State Department of Agriculture.

Through similar control work last year Pennsylvania became the leading state in the nation in the overall fight against the disease that kills most varieties of oak trees attacked. Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning declared.

Up to six airplanes will be used by trained observers in flights over the entire state this summer as in 1955, according to operational plans prepared under supervision of Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the State Bureau of Plant Industry.

Frost Damage Cited

Difficulties are anticipated in the identification from the air of oak trees attacked or killed by wilt. Dr. Guyton says, because the foliage of so many trees turned brown after the killing frosts of May 17 and 25.

Counties where the disease is known to be prevalent — largely in the south-central area — will be inspected from the air as many as four times. Since discovery of oak wilt in Pennsylvania in 1950 few in fact were found in the northern half of the state, none east of the Susquehanna River.

In oak wilt control and eradication activities last year six planes covered 43,225 square miles and spotters found 660 infection sites of one or more dead or dying oak trees. Ground crews then destroyed all oaks within a 50-foot radius of each site.

Found One In Adams

First counties to be flown this week include Bedford, Huntingdon, Fulton and Perry.

Huntingdon County had the largest number of infection sites last year, a total of 197. Others included Bedford 148, Western Franklin County 127, Perry 62, Fulton 42, Mifflin 22, Juniata 21, Blair 17, Allegheny and Cumberland 6 each, Armstrong 4, Somerset and Clinton 2 each, and one each in Adams, Indiana, Butler and Lawrence.

Truck Driver Dozes And He Hits Tree

Damage amounted to $5,000 and the driver was injured when a tractor-trailer ran off the highway a half mile north of Hanover on the Cross Keys Rd. Monday afternoon at 1:25 o'clock and struck a tree.

State police said the driver of the vehicle, Willard Fasold, 23, Sunbury, fell asleep and his vehicle left the highway while traveling north and ran into the tree. Fasold was removed to the Hanover Hospital in the Hanover ambulance and was treated there for brush burns of the left arm and leg.

The tractor-trailer was owned by Louis Rick, Northumberland.

CHAMBER WILL BE HOST FOR FARM YOUTH

The board of directors of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, meeting Monday evening in the Chamber office in the Plaza Building, voted to entertain farm youth of the county again at a rural-urban day this summer.

Last year more than 100 members of the 4-H Clubs, FFA and FHA took part in a tour of the battlefield, visits to various museums and business places and were served lunch at the recreation field.

A similar program is to be held this year at a date to be selected after consultation with leaders of the farm youth groups.

Discuss Parking

A continuation of a discussion on a parking problem, occurring in Lincoln Square principally during the spring months, ended with a decision to suggest that some method be set up by which buses, principally buses loaded with visiting school children, be permitted to unload and load at the square and then park elsewhere while the youngsters go sightseeing or eat. At present many of the buses park at the square during the period while their passengers are visiting the town. As a result there are periods in April and May when five to ten buses are in the square at one time, causing congestion, Chamber directors said.

Nicholas Meligakes was appointed by President Mares Sherman to discuss the matter with Burgess William G. Weaver with the hope that some method of alleviating the (Continued On Page 2)

The new citizens included Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Perchulyn, 408 S. Washington St., both employees at the Warner Hospital since 1953. Both are natives of Cherniow, Ukraine, and came to the United States in 1949. With their naturalization, five of their six children, the ones born overseas, will become American citizens. The sixth child, born in the U. S., is a citizen by birth.

Nicholas Perchulyn, 43, is night orderly at the hospital here, Maria Perchulyn, 35, is a kitchen aide at the hospital.

Another local couple to be naturalized was Steven Deutsch, 48, 247 Highland Ave., foreman at a shoe factory here, who was born in Paks, Teina, Hungary and Hedy Deutsch, 43, who was born in Nagymeny, Kemare, Hungary. Mr. and Mrs. Deutsch came to the U. S. in 1950.

Another Ukrainian couple to become citizens were Apollon Tremboweski, 43, and Iryna Tremboweski, 33, of Ortanna, who in the process shortened their last names to Trembow and "Tryna" became "Trene." Both the Ukrainian name and the Americanized names were carried on the naturalization papers, and Morgan said that normally "the local court later permits the formal change of name—although generally the change is in actual practice prior to that time." They were introduced by the Americanized names in court. Both came to the U. S. in 1949. He is a hospital room orderly, she a clerk and housewife.

Another whose name was Americanized according to the naturalization papers was Parkaskwa Andreuske, 19, who becomes Barbara Andreuske, Fairfield R. 1. She and her sister, Anna Andreuske, 18, also of Fairfield R. 1, who also was naturalized today, are natives of Kelebrub, Rudki, Ukraine, and entered the United States in 1949. Both are shoe workers.

According to the transcripts The Gettysburg Times sought $76.75 and judgment was entered by the justice, when the defendant failed to appear for a hearing, in the amount of $84.85, the sum sought by the newspaper plus the costs.

The New Oxford Item sought $56.30 and judgment was entered by the justice in the amount of $64.40, representing the mount of claim plus costs, after the defendant failed to appear for a hearing.

TWO JUDGMENTS ARE ENTERED

Neither was there any fresh comment from Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty on published reports that patients suffering from the President's ailment, ileitis, frequently suffer a recurrence of the intestinal inflammation despite surgery such as Eisenhower underwent.

Don't Expect Recurrence
Hagerty previously has referred to statements by Dr. Leonard D. Heaton, who operated on Eisenhower, and Dr. Berrill Crohn, discoverer of ileitis, that they do not expect a recurrence in Eisenhower's case. But he told a news conference he would ask the President's doctors about the possibility.

Hagerty declined to make the doctors themselves available to newsmen. And he voiced sharp resentment at a suggestion that questions addressed to the physicians might prove embarrassing to the White House.

"I resent that very much," he declared, adding he has been doing and will continue to do the best job he can to give the public the honest facts about the President's condition.

The exchange between Hagerty and several reporters had as its background the question, still unanswered, whether Eisenhower will reconsider his decision to seek a second term in view of his second illness in nine months.

Lincoln became exposed to Confederate fire almost one hundred years ago.

President Lincoln was inspecting the defense of Washington against a last ditch, but nevertheless daring attack by General Jubal Early's forces. Exhibiting a great deal more curiosity than caution, President Lincoln peered over the parapet, exposing himself to flying bullets, a perfect target for Southern sharpshooters. A young Union officer, blurring out "Get back, you fool!" quickly pulled Mr. Lincoln to safety. That officer was Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., later to become a great associate justice of the United States.

"ALONG A SHADY LANE"

From time to time I like to walk . . . out where the wild flowers grow . . . along a shady country lane . . . to view nature's tableau . . . for when I stroll beneath the trees . . . I leave my cares behind . . . and every step I take affords . . . a certain peace of mind . . . contentment rides the scented breeze . . . it seeps into my heart . . . driving out impurities . . . that make life somewhat tart . . . oh what a priceless treasure is . . . a walk in nature's nest . . . the greatest tonic in this world . . . for those who know unrest . . . as songbirds chirp a serenade . . . and clear streams harmonize . . . I feel the touch of Godly hands . . . and fully realize . . . that life is so worth living . . . so time to time I go . . . along a shady country lane . . . out where the wild flowers grow.

HORSE BREEDER SUES TO CANCEL NEEDLES' DEAL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Samuel Feinberg, Chester, Pa., horse breeder who gave Needles' dam and two other broodmares to Dickey Stables four years ago, sued in Federal Court yesterday to call the deal off.

Feinberg's suit said he made the agreement with William E. Leach, then owner of Dickey Stables at Ocala, while in bed recovering from a heart attack and had cataracts on his eyes.

Leach, said Feinberg's complaint, "has profited nearly $500,000 from benefits received under the agreement," while he was left with only $25,000 and one foal.

Sells One Foal

The agreement, signed May 14, 1952, gave Leach the mares, Noodle Soup, who produced Needles in 1953; Sis Brier and Carol Lee. Feinberg was to receive the third foal of each mare.

Noodle Soup's third foal was born last year and given to Feinberg, who sold it to New York interests for $25,000.

Feinberg claims that not until this year did he know that the New Yorkers were acting for Leach, and this constitutes a breach of contract because Leach had promised to keep him informed of his dealings.

The suit also claims Leach took advantage of Feinberg because of

The Post Office Department's latest report on Hoover Commission recommendations tabulated a total of 52 recommendations applying directly to the postal service. The balance requires no additional action on the part of the Post Office Department.

Feinberg wants to reimburse Leach for all his expenses, take back the mares and have the court decide what to do with the money Leach made from sale of the other foals, including Needles, winner of $570,655.

Dickey sold Needles to his present owners, Jackson Dudley and Bonnie Heath, for $20,000.

PROM FAVORITE PLAYS HERSHEY

HERSHEY, Pa. — A favorite of college prom audiences across the nation, Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra will play for dancing at Hershey Park ballroom Saturday night.

Lawrence, who has been one of the top dance outfits since 1946, came into prominence with his "Listen to Lawrence" series of broadcasts for one of the major radio networks. When the network was flooded with letters, many of them asked if the band was available for dance dates, Lawrence decided to take the road.

In 1946 he accomplished what no band in history was able to do. He opened at the Cafe Rouge in New York City's Statler Hotel without the benefit of any publicity and remained for nine weeks. Three months later, after another smash engagement at Frank Dalley's Meadowbrook, he began a round of college prom dates which established his name among the music world's most popular entertainers.

He has been a consistent winner of Billboard Magazine's annual Campus Poll as the best dance band in the nation, in addition to winning many disc jockey polls.

The Harrisburg Moose Band will play free concerts in the park bandshell on Sunday afternoon and evening. Concerts are listed from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 o'clock.

POWER OF FAITH

Everything worth fighting for, or living for, involves a serious task. Even happiness just doesn't arrive without somebody's going after it.

It's strife all the way, yet a happy strife so long as we embellish it with an increasing power of faith — faith in something permanent, even though we may not live to see its fruits gathered in abundance.

There is no other power in this world that so rules as does faith. Without it the mere task of living from day to day would become irksome and clouded in fear and doubt. Faith is the food for all the joy that we have. It drives us on, even when we become skeptical about going on at all.

The more we study and observe the great creations in nature, the more do we respect and honor the Great Mind that conceived them. Our very faith helps to make them all plain and understandable.

We do not need the type of faith which will help us to move mountains half so much as we do that type which enables us to strengthen the fibers of our hearts and presents us sturdy and equipped before our fellows.

Ever are we challenged. From the time when we awake in the morning until we retire for rest at night — we appeal for faith to carry us safely through sorrow, disappointment, and even sudden fortune.

All faith is cumulative. It grows in power and substance as we use it and tell others about it. It is the very air of God to man.

This faith not only clears one's sight for the seeing of opportunities, but it strengthens every faculty in one's makeup to grasp and master these opportunities. A man without faith aboard might just as well stop and watch all opportunity pass by, for it recognizes only men of faith.

As we grow in faith we grow in appreciation for everything of beauty in the world. This faith seems to put a flow of soul into everything.

AUTOMATION

Automation sweeps the floor.
Lights the fire and burns the trash;
Locks the front and kitchen door,
Empties every tray of ash.
Automation makes the beds,
Washes and the dishes dries;
Combs the hair on youngsters' heads,
Heedless of their anguished cries.

Automation dawns the socks;
(Am I right in penning that?)
Picks up junior's lettered blocks,
Hangs up father's coat and hat.
When he settles in his chair,
Done with business harsh and grim,
Automation climbs the stair,
Brings his slippers down to him.

What a world it's going to be
When the last device is made
And from work we all are free;
Free from skill and craft and trade,
Pushing buttons night and day,
House or trailer, tent or flat.
Until some one finds the way
While we rest to spare us that.

SAYS U.S. HAS REAL BALLISTIC MISSILE PLAN

By EDWIN B. HAKKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force's research chief says this country has "a real firm program" for development of an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

This opinion came from Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, supervisor of all Air Force research programs. He is deputy chief of staff for development.

Putt was questioned May 17 at a closed door session of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating relative U.S. and Russian air power. His testimony was made public today, after security censorship.

To Russia In Minutes
Often termed "the ultimate weapon," an intercontinental missile could carry a nuclear warhead from this country to Russia — or in the reverse direction — in a matter of minutes. The aim is to develop a rocket capable of traveling 5,000 miles — and dropping right on target.

The general's cautious optimism on the ICBM was coupled with sharp criticism of cuts in recent years in funds for Air Force research and development. He also cautioned that Soviet Russia might surpass this country soon in quality as well as numbers of new weapons and aircraft.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), subcommittee chairman, asked the general about prospects for eventual development of an ICBM, saying:

"Do you believe it is going to be done?"

Time Omitted

"I think it is a rather realistic schedule," Putt replied, "and the fact that we have met the milestones in the program to date would indicate that at least the early planning had been quite realistic, and I have no reasons to believe that, subject to the vicissitudes of not knowing exactly where we will wind up, that it is not a real firm program."

The censored version of Putt's testimony did not show what period of time was involved in the schedule Putt spoke of.

The general disclosed that more than one billion dollars had been earmarked for the ICBM project since 1954. He testified that the long-range missile was given overriding priority by the Air Force in 1954, and by the Defense Department in 1955.

Later, he said, the Army and Navy joined in work on a shorter, intermediate range ballistic missile, and this he said was given a similar priority rating.

Army in October, 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He is a 1954 graduate of East Berlin High School.

The first year of the establishment of the American Bible Society 1816, it distributed 6,410 volumes of scripture.

Boise Contractor Creates Own Work

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Earl Jensen, a Boise contractor climbed into the attic of the public library to estimate his bid on a roof repair job. One of the items he'll have to include now is a broken skylight. He crashed through the glass and dropped 20 feet to the floor below. He wasn't badly hurt.

NATIONWIDE STEEL STRIKE AUTHORIZED

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of the United Steelworkers of America have been empowered to call a nationwide steel strike if the union doesn't have a new contract by June 30.

The union's 170-member Wage Policy Committee authorized the strike call yesterday and then headed for home.

The committee warned that time is "growing short" for averting a walkout of 850,000 steelworkers in plants that turn out nine-tenths of the nation's steel.

Industry Stands Firm
But the industry stood firm against a union demand for a one-year contract with wage increases and fringe benefits.

The wage committee's statement came a day after the union "Big Three"—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—in favor of negotiating separately with each of them and eight other major steel firms.

Negotiations start today with two of the eight companies—Inland and Youngstown. The two submitted contract proposals yesterday. The offers were understood to be similar to those presented by the "Big Three."

Defends Big 3

Meanwhile, David J. McDonald, silver-haired president of the union, disputed the value the "Big Three" placed on their offer. The companies said the package proposal would amount to a 55-cent-an-hour increase in the fifth year, rising from 17-2-3 cents the first year.

"That's pure and unadulterated bunk," McDonald told a news con-

UNIFICATION OF GERMANY SEEN

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer predicts divided Germany will soon be one. Back from high-level talks in the United States, Adenauer declared on Sunday the whole free world supports the German people's desire for reunification. He led his countrymen in observing the third anniversary of the anti-Communist uprising in East Germany. June 17 is now a national holiday in West Germany, the Day of German Unity.

Speaking at ceremonies in Bonn, Adenauer said he was "firmly convinced" the day of reunification was near.

Similar views were expressed in Washington over the weekend.

President Eisenhower, in an anference. He said the union estimated the fifth year value at 28.2 cents.

Joseph L. Block, president of Inland, defended the "Big Three" proposal. He said it was "fair, generous and in the national interest."

GOP CHIEFTAINS CONFIDENT IKE STAYS IN RACE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There was no word from President Eisenhower today on whether he still intends to seek re-election, but many Republicans apparently think he will.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today he expects Eisenhower to say there is no change in his plans about the time he gets out of the hospital.

Eisenhower remained in Walter Reed Army Hospital, recuperating from his June 9 intestinal surgery. An earlier medical forecast indicated today he would be out of the hospital perhaps by Sunday.

Vice President Nixon saw Eisenhower yesterday but told news-men there was no political discussion. Later Nixon told an Annapolis, Md., audience Eisenhower would be out of the hospital soon "to carry the burdens of the hardest job in the world."

GOP Pushes Plans
Leonard Hall, Republican national chairman, told newsmen in Hartford, Conn., the GOP is going ahead with convention plans on the assumption Eisenhower will be the candidate.

Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan) was among those who agreed, Schoepel also said he thinks Republicans have an "excellent chance" to regain control of the Senate this year.

Schoepel, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said he thought chances are good to pick up a Senate seat in Kentucky. He said Democrats are "disturbed" about the candidacy of Thurston B. Morton, who is opposing Sen. Clements (D-Ky.).

Leary Gets Senate Post
In Kentucky, Democratic Gov. A. B. Chandler named Joseph J. Leary, 49, a Frankfort attorney, to the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the death of Sen. Alben Barkley.

Leary was named to serve until a successor to Barkley is elected in November. The term has four years to run. The Democratic State Central Committee was to select today its nominee to run in November.

On the Democratic presidential scene, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York got a boost from Frank E. McKinney, former Democratic national chairman.

McKinney predicted in Indianapolis that Harriman would be the Democratic nominee for president at the August convention in Chicago.

In Chicago, an Associated Press poll of Illinois Democratic delegates to the convention showed Adlai Stevenson is the No. 1 choice among delegates who took part in the poll. Of the 78 polled, 37 delegates participated. Sen. Symington of Missouri had the most second-choice support.

Maine Republicans in a primary election picked Willis A. Trafton Jr., speaker of the Maine House, to oppose Gov. Edmund S. Muskie in the early September election.

Muskie, first Democratic governor in the state in 20 years, was unopposed for renomination.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

PITCHING — Warren Spahn, Braves, tripped Pirates out of National League lead with an eight-hitter for his fifth victory 3-2, striking out seven and walking none.

3 Card Sluggers In All-Star Voting

NEW YORK (AP) — A triumvirate of St. Louis Cardinals sluggers is pacing the balloting for the 1956 All-Star baseball game at Washington July 10.

Stan Musial in right field, Rip Repulski in left and Ken Boyer at third have formed an unshakable trio as the pollsters enter its last four days. The Cards are the only team in either league with the possibility of placing three men in the starting lineup, picked by the fans.

Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, currently pacing the New York Yankees in the American League race, are running one-two in the individual race. Mantle has drawn 27,983 votes to place him about 1,500 points above his teammate. Pittsburgh's Dale Long remains the leader in the National League with 23,666.

ANOTHER SUSCE SEEMS HEADED FOR BIG TIME

AUBURN Ala. (AP) — Hottest professional baseball prospect on the 1956 Auburn nine is an intense young pitcher named Paul Susce.

Susce's father is George Susce, pitching coach with the Kansas City Athletics. George Susce Jr., his brother is a Boston Red Sox bonus hurler. Paul is determined to join them.

Watching Paul Susce on the mound, you'd never realize that he wears a specially built-up shoe. His left leg is shorter than his right. A childhood polio attack was responsible.

Leads Auburn Staff
In spite of a handicap that would keep many others on the sidelines, Paul Susce is the top pitcher of the Auburn staff. He had a 6-1 record going into the close of the season, and was among the team's leading hitters with a .350 batting average.

"I very definitely want to play professional baseball," says Susce. "I was brought up in baseball and I just want the opportunity to pitch. I'll play anywhere."

"The polio was when I was three. For a while I couldn't get around much. But when finally I got where I could, we played ball. We'd get up early. Mom would pack a lunch and off we'd go to the park and stay most of the day."

"Dad worked us hard. He taught me early I'd get no quarter, and I didn't expect any. We were a baseball family."

Paul, a senior, is 6 feet 1, weighs 195, is tanned and smilingly alert. His best pitch is a fast ball, but he throws every pitch in the book. If a team gets set for his hard one he can softball it to death.

Landed By Coach
Paul's Auburn coach, Dick McGowan, believes he one day will realize his ultimate ambition — the big leagues with his father and brother.

"He thinks he can, and, by golly, that's just about enough for me," says McGowan.

"No, he can't run as fast as some others, but he can field his position. Three people have tried to punt on him this year. He threw them all out."

"He's strong, and he's got fine stuff. He's smart, knows when to pitch and when not to. He's the best pitcher I ever coached. And I know he's already had some pro offers."

"Maybe he can do it. He thinks he can. And he has done so much already."

16 WOMEN ARE PAIRED OFF IN GOLF TOURNEY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sixteen women golfers are paired off for match play today in the 30th annual Central Penn Women's Golf Championship.

Cynthia L. Sullivan, 18-year-old Harrisburg golfer, yesterday won the medal with a five-over-par 80 over the Harrisburg Country Club course.

Mrs. John Dyson of Hazleton, the defending champion, missed top honors when she shot a 79 but was penalized two strokes for an infraction of tournament rules.

A field of 80 played over the 6,093-yard course in heavy rain which contributed much to the hazards of the course. Only 21 entries managed to break the 100 mark in the 18-hole qualifier.

Finals will be played Friday. Woman's par is 37-38-75.

Needed 98 core
It took a score of 98 or less to win one of the 16 championship berths. A three-way playoff won the final position for Mrs. Dale Anderson, York.

Miss Sullivan, a student at Coker College, Hartsville, N. C., is the third Harrisburg district player to win the medal.

In addition to Mrs. Dyson, two other former champions, Mrs. Lynn Creason, of Colonial, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Rogar Hetzel, of Lancaster, also made the title bracket.

Ann Rutherford, 19-year-old Carlisle entry and last year's medalist closed with an 86.

Sonia Wise, of York, lost out at the 490-yard eighth hole where she took a triple bogey eight after hitting two shots into the woods.

Three other Harrisburg district entries who qualified for the top bracket were Mrs. John Menger, Jr., and Mrs. William Buffington, of the host club, and 18-year-old Kay Columbic, of Carlisle, playing her first big tournament.

SEES SUPPORT FOR FOREIGN AID IN SENATE

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) predicted today that a majority of the Senate's Democrats will support at least $2,400,000,000 for foreign military assistance "when the chips are down."

That figure would be 400 millions more than the two billions voted by the House, but 200 millions below that voted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Humphrey is a member of the committee, which voted 13-2 yesterday to recommend a $4,502,000,000 foreign aid bill. The figure is $703,000,000 more than the House allowed for military and economic assistance.

Two Unsuccessful Tries
While Chairman George (D-Ga.) worked on a formal report to the Senate, Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (Tex.) said debate on the foreign aid bill would be put off until next week while the Senate parliament appropriations bill.

As it now stands, the measure carries $2,600,000,000 in military assistance for countries abroad, including authorizations previously made, against the three billions sought by President Eisenhower and the two billions voted by the House.

Humphrey joined yesterday in two unsuccessful attempts to cut the committee's figure to as low as $2,400,000,000, but he told reporters today he thought it would be "dangerous to cut below $2,400,000,000 in military assistance."

Would Jeopardize NATO
"My feeling is that the House cut would jeopardize our commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at a time when NATO needs to be strengthened and protected," he said.

"When the chips are down, I think a majority of the Senate's Democrats will oppose cuts so drastic that our NATO friends will think we are wavering in our support."

The Senate committee, in voting the increase in foreign military assistance, struck out a House provision which would have limited NATO assistance to $402,000,000.

Even Eisenhower's stout supporters conceded privately that they will have a fight on their hands to pass the increases voted by the committee. They hold no hope at all for restoring all the $1,100,000,000 the House cut.

BOSTON (AP) — Don Buddin, rookie shortstop of the Boston Red Sox, made an auspicious debut in organized ball in 1956. With Greensboro, N. C., that season he batted an even .300, had 25 homers and drove home 123 runs. Last year with Louisville he hit 18 homers, drove in 86 runs and batted .292.

FRED HANEY OFF TO GOOD START WITH BRAVES

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Easy-going Fred Haney, who couldn't lift the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League cellar in three seasons, is off to a running start as manager of the Milwaukee Braves.

Haney's charges rang up their third straight victory last night, defeating the Pirates 3-2, since he took over the managerial reins.

That's pretty good going for a team that prior to Sunday's doubleheader win over the Dodgers had lost 12 of its last 17 games.

Coach To Pilot
Haney hooked on with the Braves as a coach this season after being fired as the Pirate manager last year, and wound up as Milwaukee's pilot with the resignation Saturday of Charlie Grimm.

"It feels just like old times being back in Pittsburgh," Haney said. Obviously, he was referring to the surroundings and not the troubles he experienced in 1953, 1954, and 1955 when the Pirates finished last under him.

Haney appeared confident of better things to come with the Braves.

Fight To Wire Is OK
"It won't come easy," he said. "Nothing does. This is a very rough league we're in with eight rough ball clubs. While I like the looks of the Braves and their chances to go all the way, I look for a struggle down to the wire."

Haney chuckled when it was pointed out that a Hollywood script writer would make it a fight down to the wire between the Pirates and the Braves.

"It's all right with me," answered Haney. "Just so we're in there all the way."

EGYPT TO GET ECONOMIC AID FROM RUSSIA

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egypt, already favored by Communist bloc sales of arms, apparently could look forward today to economic and other aid from the Reds.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov told Egyptians that his government is their reliable friend. Soviet efforts to improve relations with the West will not be at the expense of good relations between the Russians and Arab countries, he said.

Shepilov hinted broadly at an offer of economic aid, pictured the Soviet Union as the natural ally of dependent and newly independent peoples and declared his government looks for no sources of enrichment abroad.

Only Shepilov's silence on their conflict with Israel disappointed Egyptians in his first major policy speech since he succeeded V. M. Molotov June 1.

On Extended Tour
The Red foreign minister is on the first stop of a swing around the eastern Mediterranean. He is the highest ranking foreigner at Egypt's three-day celebration of its National Day and the British evacuation of the Suez Canal zone.

Tomorrow he will see the largest military display in modern Egyptian history. Much of the equipment to be paraded came from Communist-bloc countries in a barter deal arranged by Shepilov last year.

The Soviet minister's statement of selfless friendship for the Arab world was made during a visit to the model Nile village of Bernest, where Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's government is testing social improvements.

"Improve Relations"
"We undoubtedly want to improve our relations and establish friendship with all other states in the world," Shepilov said, "among them the United States, France, Britain, Greece, Turkey and with all our neighbors."

"We have undertaken corresponding measures in this direction and we shall continue also to strive for it in the future by all means. It is well understood that improvement of relations of the Soviet Union with Western states does not go on and cannot go on at the expense of our good relations with the Arab countries, with our friends in the East."

New Helicopter Rotor Is Sought

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Piasecki Aircraft Corp. announced today it has received a contract from the Army to design, manufacture and test a new helicopter rotor.

The new rotor would reduce vibration, maintenance and initial cost, the corporation said.

The equipment is to be designed especially for replacement in the H25 helicopter, used by the Army for training and light transportation tasks, but can be extended to replace other helicopter rotor systems, the company said.

Piasecki said sub-contract work has started. It did not reveal the amount of its contract with the Army.

NIXON DOES NOT TALK POLITICS WITH PRESIDENT

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon conferred with President Eisenhower at Walter Reed Hospital Monday but reported there was absolutely no discussion of whether Eisenhower intends to remain in the presidential race. Nixon told a news conference after the visit that Eisenhower will "speak for himself" in answer to the big question when he feels the time is right. Asked whether there was any discussion whatever of politics at his meeting with the President, Nixon replied: "The answer is no. That is categorical without any qualification." Confidence in President Eisenhower himself, Nixon went on, will "select the time and place" for discussion of his political future. The vice president added that he has "great confidence" the President "will weigh all the factors concerned and make the proper decision." A reporter told Nixon there have been some suggestions that he should reappraise his own political position in the light of Eisenhower's new illness. Nixon noted that on Feb. 29 Eisenhower announced he was willing to run for a second term. Nixon said he believes that until the President announces any change in his plans, "the rest of us" should not discuss the situation. Secretary of State Dulles also visited Eisenhower. The vice president saw Eisenhower first, spending about 15 minutes with him. Then they were joined by Dulles for about five minutes. Nixon said he could not discuss the nature of that business at this time, but that it had no relation to politics. After the joint conference, Dulles was alone with Eisenhower for about 10 minutes on what press secretary James C. Hagerty described as "State Department matters."

BIG EXPANSION, ATOMIC SURVEY TO HELP STATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Department of Labor and Industry says an expenditure of over 150 million dollars for business expansion and atomic research is expected to help the state's employment picture.

"Through the medium of experimentation to find peaceful uses of atomic power, a new field has been opened to give further employment to Pennsylvanians," said Secretary of Labor and Industry.

Cites Expansions

He made the statement over the weekend in commenting on a survey spelling out business expansion in the state.

He noted that the state's first atomic power plant is now being built at Shippingport while an atomic reactor is being developed for the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., Allentown.

Torquato said that although research and nuclear facilities will "greatly" increase Pennsylvania's prosperity, industrial expansion is "booming" and added:

"The combination of all these important factors gives assurance to Pennsylvanians that the state will continue to lead the nation in industrial progress."

Among expansions cited by the department:

A multimillion dollar research and development headquarters by General Electric on a 104-acre tract at Valley Forge.

The Quehanna Center of the Curtiss-Wright Corp. in north central Pennsylvania which also contains nuclear research facilities.

Among other companies expanding are the Gulf Oil Corp. at Harborsville; Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Harmer Twp.; Koppers Co., Monroeville; Dravo Corp., Neville Island, and H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh.

Prisoner Hangs Himself In Cell

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Frank G. Bannister, 49, a prisoner at the State Penitentiary in Graterford, hanged himself on Sunday in his cell. He was serving a 6 to 20 year term for the murder of his bride two years ago.

Warden David Myers said Bannister's body was found hanging from an overhead radiator by a prison guard. He said Bannister had used a bedsheet as a noose, stood on a washstand and jumped.

Bannister was convicted in Philadelphia last September of second degree murder for the strangulation of his bride of one month, Lenore, 45. She was killed in July 1954.

SAY AG SERVICE IS HARD HIT BY $242,000 SLASH

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Department of Agriculture says a $242,000 slash in its appropriation will mean a "definite hardship" to maintain services until next May 31.

But Dr. William L. Henning, department secretary, said that despite the "Senate cut . . . we shall maintain all major services to the best of our ability for the remainder of the biennium."

He made the statement in a review of agriculture legislation passed by the 1955-56 General Assembly. He added the department is now seeking to activate the new laws.

In his budget message, Gov. Leader recommended a $7,547,400 appropriation for the department.

In the Legislative Review Sunday, Henning cited in particular the 100 per cent refund now allowed farmers on the 6-cent-a-gallon state tax on gasoline used in the production of food. The previous refund was 50 per cent.

Henning said: "The new act gives farmers the opportunity to apply for full refund of the tax which amounts to $60 on every 4,000 gallons of gasoline used on the farm."

19 SOLDIERS CONSUMED IN FOREST FIRE

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Nineteen British soldiers, engaged in a manhunt for Greek Cypriot rebel chiefs in the Troodos Mountains, were trapped by a forest fire on Sunday and lost their lives, British authorities announced Monday.

Eighteen others were injured, some of them seriously, when a sudden shift of wind blew the fire at the troops.

Many young servicemen were injured when the blaze caught their vehicles and the fuel tanks blew up.

The injured were evacuated from the area by helicopter.

About 2,000 British troops had been engaged in an extensive operation in the area for several days, seeking to close in on George Grivas, the former Greek army colonel the British say leads the terrorist rebel organization EOKA under the name of "Digenis."

Ignored Help

The British believed they were about to close the net on Grivas and 10 other EOKA leaders who went into hiding with Greece when a forest fire broke out Sunday in the sun-baked ridges. The British, fearing local villagers would help the rebels escape through the cordons of troops, told the local people that their help was not needed in fighting the flames.

The troops, however, were inexperienced fire fighters and the blaze got out of hand and spread quickly over a broad area of brush and scrub pine. It was brought under control today.

The cause of the fire was not determined. It has been suspected that the rebels have set some previous fires, but the British also have been accused of starting some through mortar fire and carelessness of troops.

The rebel campaign resulted in the first death of an American Saturday night. U.S. Vice Consul William P. Boteler, 26, of Washington, D.C., was killed by two bombs tossed into a restaurant in Nicosia. Five other Americans, radio employees of the U.S. State Department, were seated at the table with him. Three were injured.

EAGLES OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—James A. Pujia, Connellsville, was installed on Sunday as president of the State Fraternal Order of Eagles. His installation closed a three-day meeting of the state organization. Pujia was unopposed for the post.

The only contest saw Thomas Liotta, Bethlehem, defeat Arthur Erickson, Titusville, for outside guard.

Other newly installed officers: Joseph Mahoney, Coatesville, vice president; Carl W. Depp, Punksutawney, junior past state president; Maurice Splain Jr., Oil City, secretary; Mark Brown, Patton, treasurer; Ernest Ridgeway, Stroudsburg, chaplain; P. Joseph Gibson, Scranton, inside guard; Thomas P. Dugan, Pittsburgh, conductor, and the following trustees:

Paul N. Grannis, Ellwood City; Morgan Kemmerer, Lehigh; Theodore H. Breuer, Charleroi; George Nagel, Philadelphia, and Clyde W. Milliken, Pittsburgh.

Neighbor Plays Practical Joke

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John P. Taplin returned home after a night out to find that 18 pairs of shoes were missing.

But two beds had been made, clothing had been taken from chairs and hung in closets, furniture was polished, upstairs and down, and vegetables which had been left at the door were in the refrigerator.

The Taplins notified police, but withdrew the "burglary" report when a neighbor "confessed" it had been done as a practical joke.

Wife Gets Wrong End Of Wind, Soil

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—Neil Dikeman is going to be a little more careful from now on when he helps his wife in the yard. He picked up a chunk of sod and began shaking it into a hard-blowing wind.

Then he looked around — and standing windward was Mrs. Dikeman whose cold cream-covered face was plastered with dirt.

ISRAELI POLICY AGAINST ARABS TO BE TOUGHER

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A tougher Israeli policy toward the Jewish nation's Arab neighbors appeared in prospect today following Moshe Sharett's resignation as foreign minister.

Sharett, foreign minister ever since Israel was founded in 1948, told a special meeting of the Cabinet he was quitting. Earlier he told the Political Committee of his Mapai — Democratic Labor — party he no longer could continue "under present circumstances."

Sharett's departure from the government followed a widening policy split with Ben-Gurion, the Mapai chief. Sharett advocated caution in dealing with the Arab nations while Ben-Gurion insisted on an "active defense."

The Mapai committee named Mrs. Golda Myerson, labor minister since 1949 and a former Milwaukee schoolteacher, to succeed Sharett. Mordechai Namir, general secretary of the labor federation, was picked for the Labor Ministry.

Mrs. Myerson said she would consider her new appointment only temporary. She has acted several times as foreign minister during Sharett's absences from the country.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Britain exploded an atomic device off Australia's northwest coast today in the second and final blast of its current series of nuclear experiments.

A brief announcement by the British Ministry of Supply said the explosion was successful and all safety precautions were in operation in the remote Monte Bello Islands, 12 miles off Australia. It added that scientific records were being collected for evaluation.

The announcement gave no hint as to the nature of the device, but it has been generally accepted that the tests were planned to develop a trigger for Britain's first hydrogen bomb.

The British H-bomb, still being developed, is to be tested next year.

Two Measures Before Congress To Curb Supreme Court Powers

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Time is running out for Congress to put up or shut up on its talk of "curbing" the Supreme Court. There's a good chance, because of confusion and disagreement, that it won't put up. The "curb" talk comes from Southerners, still boiling over the court's rulings against racial segregation, and from states' rights, including Southerners, who complain the court has gone too far in interfering with state laws.

First, the background. The case of Steve Nelson, Communist leader, is the starting place for what is happening now. He was convicted in a Pennsylvania court of violating the state's sedition law.

Later he was convicted in a U.S. court of violating the federal law against conspiracy to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force. He appealed to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to throw out his conviction in the state court.

Court Rejects Appeal

It did, on the grounds the federal law superseded the state law. The state of Pennsylvania, backed by 27 other states with sedition laws, appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold Nelson's state court conviction.

This would mean upholding the right of the states to try people for sedition. But the court refused. It upheld the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. It ruled out the state sedition laws, saying Congress clearly intended to occupy this field.

Congress never had said specifically it had any such intention. Sen. Bridges (R-NH), with the blessing of the Eisenhower administration, made this proposal: that Congress declare that state sedition laws stand. This would in effect cancel out the Supreme Court's ruling against state sedition laws.

McClellan Offers Bill

But then Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) sponsored a proposal which went far beyond Bridges' idea.

This was the McClellan plan: Where the states and federal governments had laws covering the same field—the Supreme Court could never say federal law superseded state law unless Congress previously had said it should.

On June 5 the Senate Judiciary

Committee approved Bridges' proposal. On June 13 it approved McClellan's. This posed a dilemma for Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader.

Having been approved by the committee, both proposals are now before the Senate awaiting action. But which should Johnson call up first?

While the Eisenhower administration favored Bridges' proposal—which would apply only to sedition laws—it came out flatly against McClellan's idea as leading straight to confusion.

"Serious Problems"

William P. Rogers, deputy attorney general, wrote the Senate committee saying the McClellan proposal would raise "serious problems." He said most federal laws do not contain provisions saying it was the intent of Congress that this or that federal law should supersede some state law.

Under the McClellan plan, he said, Congress would have to examine all its laws, where the federal and state governments have corresponding statutes, to see which of them should be changed to say Congress meant the federal law to "occupy" the field.

Meanwhile, the House Judiciary Committee today arranged to consider a resolution similar to Bridges' Senate proposal: that state sedition laws could stand.

Congress doesn't have much time, before vacation to act on these proposals. If the House passes the Bridges kind of legislation and the Senate passes the McClellan proposal, they may never reconcile their differences before quitting.
